

Little Bear Lake Fen

The road west of Little Bear Lake was constructed in a special type of wetland, called a fen. When the road was constructed, fill was placed in the fen to provide a road base. FWHA has proposed two options for reconstructing the road through this area.

Little Bear Lake Fen and adjacent wetland

Wall Option

- Reconstructs and widens the road using a retaining wall following the centerline of the existing road.
- Avoids permanently impacting adjacent wetland and fen.

Bridge Option

- Uses a pedestal bridge on the north side of the existing road to span the fen.
- Avoids permanently impacting adjacent wetland and fen.
- Provides opportunity to restore fen underlying existing road by removing original road fill.
